CURRICULUM VITAE ACCADEMICO
(ABSTRACT – ENGLISH VERSION)

Dr. Salvatore Drago
Via Nicolò Patti, 12
98043 Rometta Marea (ME).
348-3522896
drago73salvo@tiscali.it

Graduated in Philosophy in 1998 with a thesis on Philosophy Theoretical concerning "geo-economic" aspects according to M. Heidegger, in 2003 he received his Research Doctorate in "History of the Mediterranean Europe, Economy, Society and Institutions: XVII-XX " with a thesis on the economic Societies and about the Reale Institute for Encouragement in nineteenth-century Sicily, and later he received a Post-Doctoral contract research as well in "History of the Mediterranean Europe. Economy, Society and Institutions: XVII-XX centuries "with a research project relating the economic associations and the role of ethical and civil Economy of the century, at the Faculty of Literature and Philosophy at the University of Messina.
Appointed in 2003 Subject Expert in Modern History (M-STO/02 SSD) and in History of Economic Thought (SECS-P/04 SSD) he is an official member of the examination committees in Modern History and in Economic History in different Bachelor degree courses and Masters of the Faculty of Literature and Philosophy of Messina.
During the academic years he gave courses and seminars in economic history and about the relationship between ethics and economics in modern and contemporary age. In 2009 he was elected a Fellow of the "Centro Studi Tocqueville-Acton. Studies and researches on market economy, ethics and the social doctrine of the church", Political Theory, Economics and Social Sciences Department and he has been included within the working groups of economic theory, history and sociology of political and social phenomena, and Religion and Catholic social doctrine.
The research activities (which focuses on the role of italian and european economic associationism and on ethical civil Economy from the eighteenth century up to today, on the business and economic companies existing before and after the unification, on the relationship between ethics and economics, and on the relationship between religion and economics in its historical and contemporary forms) have been conducted through the participation in several national and international conferences, including those which have been organized by the International Society for Eighteenth-Century Studies (ISECS), the Center for Interdisciplinary Studies in Economics, Psychology and Social Sciences (CISEPS), the European Business Ethics Network (EBEN), the Institute for Social Research on (IRIS Network), the European Research Institute on Cooperative and Social Enterprises (Euricse), the European Association for the Study of Religions (EASR), the European Academy of Management (EURAM), the European Institute for Advanced Studies in Management (EIASM) and the High School Economics Society Theology (ASSET).

Even Assistant at the Department of History and Social Sciences of University of Messina and member of the study SISEM Associations (Italian Society for History in the Modern Age), SISE (Italian Society of economic historians), STOREP (Italian Society for the History of 'politic economy) and AISPE (Italian Association for the History of Economic Thought), he is the author of several publications appeared in specialistic Journals and in national and international volumes.