

FORMAT OF THE LANGUAGE EXAMS B1 – B2 – C1

The language exams take place remotely and consist of three modules:

- Module I = Listening comprehension, reading comprehension and language in use
- Module II = Written production
- Module III = Oral production

The exam is entirely computer-based, also the written and oral production.

If you pass Module I, you will automatically be admitted to Modules II and III.

Candidates who fail Module I cannot proceed to Modules II and III.

Module I and II take place in the morning, module III (oral production) in the afternoon.

Candidates who pass Module I have to pass Modules II and III within eighteen months after having passed Module I. After that deadline has passed, the complete exam must be repeated.

To pass the entire exam, and certify the level necessary for admission to unibz, you must achieve in all three modules at least 60% of the allocated points.

EXAM REGISTRATION

When registering for the exams, which must be completed through the application portal during the periods indicated online on the Language Centre's web pages (www.unibz.it > Services > Language Centre), the language(s), level and timeslot of the exam must be selected.

The system will recognize which of the modules must be taken (e.g., all three modules, only module II, or only module III, etc.) on the basis of any modules already passed in previous sessions.

NECESSARY TECHNICAL EQUIPMENT

The exam takes place remotely. In order to take the exam, you must have a stable internet connection (minimum requirements: 2Mbit/sec bandwidth), use a PC or notebook (no tablets!) which is equipped with a working webcam connected to the PC/notebook, and a headset with an integrated and working microphone connected to the PC/notebook. Details of required equipment will be sent at the time of registration.

EXAM DAY

When checking in for the online exam, it is compulsory to present a valid identity document (identity card, driving license or passport), otherwise you will not be able to take the exam.

EXAM RESULTS

The results will be automatically uploaded to the application portal within 10 days at the latest, and in time to allow candidates to apply for the course/s they have chosen.
